

International Conference Presentation Guide: The ultimate do's and don'ts

Author

Riya Thomas

Post Url

<https://www.enago.com/academy/international-conference-presentation-guide-the-ultimate-dos-and-donts/>

Looking to be a shining star and take your research to the next level? International conferences are a fantastic opportunity to showcase your latest findings, learn from the best in the business, and network with like-minded professionals across the globe.

Whether you are presenting or just attending, with our ultimate do's and don'ts guide, you'll be able to navigate the conference like a pro, leaving a lasting impression every attendee. So get ready to pack your bags, grab your business cards, and to make your mark on the world of academic conferences!

Access the infographic anytime you want or share it with your peers! Download Now for Free!

enago academy
International Conference Presentation Guide: The ultimate do's and don'ts

DO'S	DON'TS
Address the audience from the beginning of your presentation.	Don't forget to thank the audience at the end of your presentation.
Use bullet points to provide a clear overview of your study.	Don't use too many slides.
Keep your presentation concise.	Don't use too many words.
Be confident and speak clearly.	Don't use too many abbreviations.
Engage the audience.	Don't use too many technical terms.
Practice your presentation.	Don't use too many complex sentences.

Key Takeaways:

- Practice your presentation: Practice your presentation in front of a friend or family member to get feedback and build confidence.
- Engage the audience: Engage the audience by asking questions, using humor, and making eye contact.
- Keep your presentation concise: Keep your presentation concise and to the point. Focus on the most important information.
- Use visual aids: Use visual aids like slides and handouts to support your presentation.
- Be confident: Be confident and speak clearly. Use a microphone if you are presenting in a large room.

Cite this article

Riya Thomas, International Conference Presentation Guide: The ultimate do's and don'ts. Enago Academy. 2023/03/28. <https://www.enago.com/academy/international-conference-presentation-guide-the-ultimate-dos-and-donts/>